An Overview

Blackburn with Darwen Interfaith Forum continues to work as a forum where members from all major faiths can work together to raise awareness promoting better understanding between people of faith or no faith in our local schools, colleges, places of worship and elsewhere. This work we believe continues to be of critical importance to our increasingly multicultural multi faith community.

What we all see in the media about culture clash, mistrust and suspicion amongst people from different backgrounds, I believe is born out of ignorance of the “other” and sows the seeds of fear and hatred. We all know that ignorance only breeds ignorance and it is therefore very important to have a meaningful dialogue and to encourage people to be open about their way of life and to respect other people’s way of life.

This year has been difficult as there was no funding available from anywhere to expand our services by staging joint conferences and events for the benefit of the community.

As a current Chair of the Interfaith Forum, I would like to give you a resume of what we have been able to do in these difficult financial conditions over the past 12 months. Firstly, I would like to thank all the members of Interfaith forum, particularly Derek Estill who has devoted a lot of his time to set up and organise various talks and events and with the help of Sadiq Patel who again has been a very good administrator ensuring that all events, talks are conducted smoothly and as planned. I would also like to thank the Community and Voluntary Service (CVS) who have been very kind to allow Sadiq to help us in his voluntary capacity and to continue to support us in so many ways.

The following are the bullet points of our work during the past year.

- Marketed our services at the Blackburn College student enrolment day.
- A panel of six members each from a different faith taking part in questions and answers for the children of both primary and junior schools in Blackburn & Darwen.
- Participating in the Remembrance Day parade at the Corporation Park Cenotaph.
- Holocaust Memorial Remembrance in Partnership with BwD Borough Council.
- Held a Faith and the Environment lecture/ discussion in Blackburn College. This has led on to a group of students talking up this faith based challenge by taking on an environmental project in the borough.
- Work has been done to establish a North Blackburn Faith Leaders Forum between 3 local Churches and Mosque
- Delivered a talk describing the basics of Christian Worship.
- Annual Remembrance Day for local people, a new project in partnership with BwD Borough Council and the Blackburn Cathedral.
- Established and facilitated a Christian/Muslim Ladies group in East Blackburn. The group used the East Blackburn Faith Trail during the year and invited a group of Christian and Muslim ladies from Burnley to come and tell them about their joint visit to Jerusalem.
- Working with Lancashire Forum of Faiths and the Lancashire Council of Mosques

Again, my sincere thanks to all who have supported the work of the Interfaith Forum and hope this continues in the future.

Ashok Chudasama
Chair of Interfaith Forum.

Our Internal Structures

The Interfaith Forum holds regular committee meetings to review activities and plan future work. It is supported in doing this by CVS and we are grateful for their support and their skills and knowledge which are very much appreciated. The Interfaith Forum is aware of the need to adopt a strategic overview and make plans for the future of the organisation and as a charity complies with requirements of the Charity Commission. We will as a result of the Development Day study be reviewing the arrangements to best support and appoint people to serve on the Forum’s Advisory Committee

East Blackburn Faith Leaders’ Forum

The Interfaith Forum has continued to be instrumental in supporting and facilitating the work of the Faith Leaders’ Forum in the East part of Blackburn between local Mosques and Churches. As part of the work of this Forum has supported and promoted the events and talks that the local Faith Leaders Forum has arranged such as a Talk and visit to a local Maddrasah, and arranging for Christian Members of one of the local Churches to share in Opened the Fast during Ramadan with members of the Noorul Islam Masjide

North Blackburn Faith Leaders’ Forum

Work has begun to establish a Faith Leaders Forum in the north part of Blackburn similar to the one already established in the East of the town. This group has held a talk on the work of a Maddrasah which included visiting the students whilst they were studying. Establishing an Interfaith Trail between the churches and Mosques and carrying out a whole day walk around the trail visiting the various places of worship linked by the trail and sharing time and food together. The Faith Leaders also signed the following Pledge copies of which are being produced for hanging in each place of worship

North Blackburn Faith Trail Pledge

As Christians and Muslims living, working and worshiping in Blackburn with Darwen we are committed to joint action in supporting the people of the Borough to create peace and understanding in our communities.

The current situation in the Middle East (Palestine/Israel/Syria/Iraq) shocks and affects us all. In particular we are shocked by the recent killings in France and look back on the remembering of the Jewish Holocaust and our commitment to work together to stop such atrocities from happening again. Bearing these things in mind we are assembled here together today as local people each committed to this local community the Faiths we follow and a desire to build friendly relationships. We know that there are tensions in our communities and want to stand alongside each other in support of peace. We therefore pledge ourselves to act jointly demonstrating our commitment to our common humanity and inaugurate the North Blackburn Interfaith Trail by jointly walking the route together, calling in at our respective places of worship on route and by sharing time, conversation and food together. We hope that by doing things together we will get to know each other better and that this will enable us to explore other things we might do to build friendship and understanding.

Memorial Day

The Interfaith Forum has worked with others, to establish a Memorial Day for Blackburn with Darwen when all those who have died during the previous year can be remembered. The Interfaith Forum has continued to work with others to build on the success of the first Memorial Days to ensure that this annual memorial occasion becomes embedded in the life of the town enabling local people to regularly mark their loving memories for those that have died during the previous 12 months. We are very pleased to be able to make our contribution to what we hope is going to be a significant annual event for all people in the Borough of any faith or no faith.

Development Day

The Interfaith Forum has held a Development day when we examined the work being done and how we can move forward to meet new challenges. It is now necessary to study the outcome and make changes as needed to ensure our future work remain relevant and focused

Our Years Work

Remembrance Sunday

A key element of the Interfaith Forum’s work relates to our civic duty as faith communities to remember those who have fought and died in wars and conflicts. As part of this, the IFF has participated in Remembrance Sunday commemorations.

Holocaust Memorial Day

The Interfaith Forum has also played a vital part in remembering the suffering of communities on the grounds of religion. As part of this, Holocaust Memorial Day, remembering the atrocities committed against the Jews and others, is a key date in the IFF calendar.

Both these events are in partnership with Blackburn with Darwen Borough Council

Visits to Places of Worship

These have continued to be arranged so that pupils from local schools hare able to visit a Church, Sikh Gurdwara, Buddhist Centre, Jewish Synagogue, Hindu Temple and Mosque. Reports from schools that have been on these visits illustrate that they have also valued these trips very much.

Working with Young People

Secondary Schools

The Interfaith Forum has continued to work with Secondary Schools on Interfaith related matters. However the change in grant funding availability has meant that it has not been possible to continue 2 day out of school intensive sessions where students from different schools across Blackburn interact with each other and explore their perception or misperception about each other and their different faiths of no faith background. Looking back on previous years work it is clear that these sessions were of value and made an important contribution to those young people’s lives that took part. It is hoped that it might be possible to run similar sessions in the future.

We have however been able to work with Tauheedul Islamic Girls High School visiting their A level student class to explain and answer questions about the work of the Interfaith Forum which was well received. This has lead on to us working with the school to develop an Interfaith Club. Arrangements have already been made to deliver a series of sessions focusing on each of the faiths that are part of the Interfaith Forum

The Interfaith Forum has worked with Blackburn Central High School during which we were able to help students explore questions of faith and good relations, and also with Darwen Aldridge Community Academy by facilitating a Question Time session for their students.

Blackburn College

The Interfaith Forum has continued to be involved in the college’s Further Education student Induction Week’ making contact with college students to bring the work of the Interfaith Forum to their notice and to try and establish a connection with students that are interested in this work.

Primary Schools

Work has continued with Primary Schools across the Borough with the Interfaith Forum’s Panel of people from 6 different faiths visiting schools and spending the whole morning there engaging with the pupils at different school. These sessions have proved to be both interesting and challenging with the pupils asking many different questions of all 6 different faiths. The Interfaith Forum has received appreciative comments from the schools that have taken part as it is believed that such interaction between adult members of the 6 main world faiths with the pupils of our local schools makes an important contribution to the community cohesion dialogue within and across the Borough.
